Dear Harry,

Spring and Easter are running hand and hand with each other this year, and the south is just gorgeous. Flowers and bushes are blooming. Daffodils and Tulips line the drives to any beautiful southern setting. The colors are the brightest of the year. The air is alive and calling you outside to fish, boat, wander or travel.

Easter brings a special time of community sharing and compassion. Children chasing eggs is the most fun of the season. There are many great destinations for Easter or just enjoying the southern spring. Check now on www.segetaway.com to find the best trip with the greatest of ease.

North Carolina Destinations

Charlotte has the air of a congenial southern town, where hospitality is taken seriously and guests are made to feel not only welcome but at home. At the same time, it is a bustling cosmopolitan city, and also home to the NFL Panthers and the NBA Hornets. Charlotte's outdoor activities include sightseeing in the surrounding countryside as well as a number of more structured events. Charlotte offers over 14,000 acres of parks and 17 designated recreation centers. Charlotte Metro Zoo prides itself on letting visitors see the animals up close at a safe distance. Charlotte has the air of a Fayetteville, North Carolina is an all-American city with a proud past and a promising future. There is much to commend Fayetteville as an attraction for tourists. Residents of the city consider it an ideal place in which to live, work and bring up a family. Fayetteville is known for its gracious hospitality and Southern charm.

Thousands of soldiers and airmen reside at Fort Bragg and Pope Air Force Base in what is one of the world's largest military complexes. From Pope Air Force Base, thousands of elite paratroopers deploy on missions to the world's hot spots. Fayetteville's colorful heritage includes historical leaders in the armed forces who excelled during the Revolutionary War, the Civil War the two world wars, and the war in Vietnam their remoteness from mainland ways yet their easy accessibility via bridges and ferries. Dotted the islands are 16 communities, each with its own distinct character and all of them family- oriented and friendly. One hundred miles of beaches, less crowded than those in many other East Coast vacation destinations, stretch along the Atlantic shoreline

● Budget Travel Tips

#1 New Set of Wheels: The first thing I do when I buy a new piece of luggage is remove the cheap plastic wheels and replace them with rubber Rollerblade wheels. I've found that plastic wheels break easily, but rubber is more durable, so the wheels are better at surviving the wear and tear of traveling. You can find Rollerblade wheels at most sports stores.

#2 Contact Solution: I often forget my contact-lens case when I travel. TO avoid the hassle of having to buy another case, I find two plastic spoons, fill them with contact solution, put my contacts in the spoons, and store them in a safe place for the night. Problem solved!

#3 Spa Secret: On most cruise lines, you have to pay for spa treatments, but on some ships, you can use the spa's showers and steam rooms for free. After my daughter and I work out and have a steam session on a cruise, we forgo the tiny showers in our staterooms for the spacious ones in the spa. Also, a lot of spas have relaxation rooms that are sometimes open to any cruiser who wants to get away from the action.

Welcome to city living, Carolina style. Raleigh combines the best of the city with all of the beauty and tranquility of the country. It is a destination where visitors will find trendy restaurants on tree-lined streets, cutting-edge culture with Southern charm, bustling nightspots, not to mention some unique North Carolina historic sites. It's hip without the hassle, and it's waiting just for you.
Named after Sir Walter Raleigh, this conveniently located North Carolina City is also the capital of the state. The present Capitol building, which replaced the burned Statehouse in 1840, stands on Union Square, the center of five squares at the heart of the city.
